

Pacific Islands Report

Pacific Islands
Development Program

Center for Pacific Islands Studies
University of Hawai'i at Mānoa

About PIR

Founded in 1997, the Pacific Islands Report (PIR) is a web-based publication and news source focused on the Pacific Islands.

Redesigned in 2023, PIR now publishes essays, articles, commentary, and short manuscripts on a quarterly basis while publishing weekly roundups of news headlines from the Pacific Islands.

PIR is a collaborative project of the Pacific Islands Development Program at the East-West Center and the Center for Pacific Islands Studies at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa.

Dr. Mary Hattori
Director, Pacific Islands
Development Program

“

The Pacific Islands Report's regional news roundup is just one part of a larger capacity-building effort focused on providing opportunities for students and storytellers who are interested in current events, stories, and ideas in their local communities.

”

How to Engage

Students

- Submit class papers or articles for publication
- Stay informed with our weekly news roundups

Teachers and Academics

- Submit essays distilled from academic writing
- Use PIR news roundups to enhance curriculum
- Encourage students to publish work in PIR

Community Members and Stakeholders

- Submit commentary or short manuscripts
- Stay informed with our weekly news roundups

General Submission Guidelines

Relevance: Your submission should focus on Pacific-related topics, but it does not have to be exclusively from a Pacific perspective.

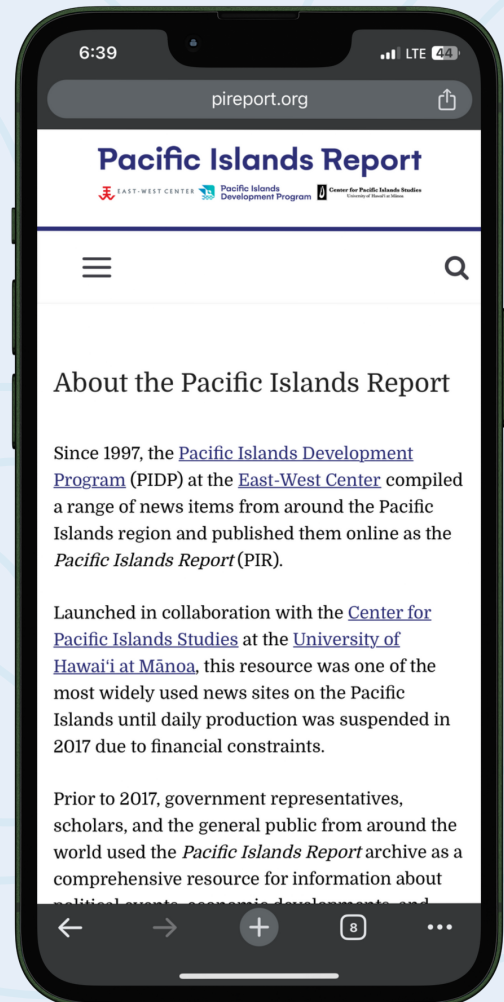

Quality: We want original, thoughtful, and concise content about Pacific-related topics.

Length: Ideally, 800 to 1,200 words.

Submission: Email your work to pireport@eastwestcenter.org.

Deadlines: We accept submissions year-round but we review them in quarterly batches at the end of March, June, September, and December.

More details: pireport.org/submissions/

www.pireport.org

@PIDP_EWC

@PacificIslandsDevelopmentProgram

@PIDP_EWC

@PacificIslandsDevelopmentProgram